Give Georgetown Fight Touchdown Decides It

Lebanon Valley Warriors Die Hard, 7 to 0, With Rough Play Marking Contest.

By LOUIS A. DOUGHER.

G EORGETOWN, displaying much earnestness and little else, opened its gridiron campaign at American League Park yesterday before a fair-sized crowd with a victory over Lebanon Valley, to 0. Toward the end of the conflict the going became a bit rough. Bill Kenyon, Georgetown's varsity end, was sent from the field for unnecessary roughness and the Lebanon Valley eleven was penalized thirty-six yards, or half the distance to its goal line, when Fullback Zanker kicked Martino in the back as the Georgetown quarterback was lying on the ground.

The Hilltoppers scored in the second period, time being called for the first quarter with the Blue and Gray on Lebanon's 10-yard line. Paul Byrne, last year's star at Gonzaga, carried the leather over the line and Bill Kenyon kicked the goal from touchdown. Georgetown lost another touchdown when a forward pass was incompleted behind Lebanon's goal and the end of the game caught them moving fast and already at the visitors' 14-yard line.

If any expected the Hilltoppers tooverweigh their opponents by many pounds, they must have been disap-pointed. Lebanon's backs were small and lighter, but there seemed little difference between the two sets of forwards. Of course Kimball and Thompson, the Hilltoppers' two giants, were bigger than anything opposing them, but the two lines were pretty much at

The offense being tumbled a couple of times, Lebanon punted to Martino who was downed on Lebanon's 25-yard line. Quickly Flavin, McQuade ard Martino, with Byrne working now and then, began pounding the visiting tackles and when time was called the ball was resting on Lebanon's 10-yard

Quade was stopped at left tackle, but Martino grabbed two yards at right end and Flavin got one at center. Then Byrne leaped through the middle for a touchdown, Kenyon kicking the Coach Exendine began shooting in bothering some of the lads, especially McQuade. Georgetown had the ball most of the time, and, after a series of short runs, brought it down to Lebanon's 25-yard line. Kenyon took Lebanon's 25-yard line. Renyon took a long forward pass just across the visitors' goal-line, but dropped it and a touchdown was lost a few moments the Sox drove him from the mound tefore time was called.

Livers started the third period at in the ninth inning. fullback for Georgetown and his consecutive running with the ball served to bring cheers from the crowd. He did not do it all, though, for Lowe proved of considerable assistance. Between them they brought a couple of first downs. Then Lebanon stiffened, and forward passes began hurtling through the air, usually without success, and it was the visitors' ball on their own 20-yard line.
